Call to Worship

Leader: God, so often we do not know what to do. We feel caught between the options, uncertain of where you are leading. In our anxiety, we turn on each other, relying on sarcasm and mocking to bolster our pride. In our frustration, we ask all the wrong questions while never listening for an answer. In our fear, we sacrifice you on the altar of our own security and desire. Forgive us, O God.

One: We stand at the threshold of your kingdom, Lord.
All: Open wide the door of life and give us courage to walk through.

One: You, Lord, invite us into relationship
All: but relationships are messy and hard work, so we turn you into an idea instead.

One: You, Lord, invite us to trust,
All: but we insist trust must be earned, so we turn back to what we know.

One: You, Lord, invite us to come in,
All: but we aren't sure we want to commit, so we stand in the doorway, undecided.

One: You, Lord, invite us to go out,
All: but we don't want to offend anyone, and we don't know enough, so we stand at the threshold and look but never leap.

One: Forgive us, O God,
All: for our chosen captivity to the kingdoms of this world. Open wide the door of life and give us courage to walk through.

Leader: You, O Lord, are the giver of every good gift. Your love is the ground of our being. You call us to listen, to feast upon your word, and to follow in your way. You call us to trust you with everything we are and everything we have. Yet so often we deny you—by claiming we deserve what we have, by remaining silent in the face of injustice, by keeping busy so we do not have time to hear the cock crow.

All: For all the ways we have betrayed you, and ourselves, forgive us, O God.

One: Open wide the door of life, O God,
All: and give us courage to walk through.
